ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

THIS book derives from a Conference, on the subject of Contexts and Levels, held at St Antony's College, Oxford, on 8-11 March 1983, under the auspices of the Asian Studies Centre of St Antony's College and the Institute of Social Anthropology. The conference itself was supported by grants from the Social Science Research Council of Great Britain (now the Economic and Social Research Council) and the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, Paris, France. Further grants from the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme and the British Council in Paris towards costs of publication have enabled the Journal of the Anthropological Society of Oxford to publish the present volume. Thanks therefore are due to M. Clement Heller and the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, the SSRC (now ESRC), Mr A.F. Cassidy, Mr M.A. Evans and the British Council, and to the Asian Studies Centre and St Antony's College, Oxford.

The editors and authors are also grateful to Jonathan Webber, Steven Seidenberg and the other members of the editorial team of JASO for their part in bringing the idea of a book on hierarchy to reality. On the technical side of the book's production, credit is due to Stephen Cope of the Oxford University Computing Service and to Elizabeth Edwards of the Pitt Rivers Museum, University of Oxford, whose patience and care have been much appreciated. Acknowledgement is, furthermore, due to the Curator of the Pitt Rivers Museum for his kind permission to reproduce the hitherto unpublished photograph that appears on the cover of this book. Finally, we wish to express our gratitude to the students and staff of the Institute of Social Anthropology and other participants who attended the conference and contributed substantially to the discussions.

Responsibility for the content, opinions and conclusions expressed lies solely with the individual authors and not at all with the ESRC or any of the other institutions mentioned above who have supported this project.
